ACTION ALERT
The L.A. Times has endorsed Measure H

Vote YES on Measure H on March 7

The L.A. Times says: "Homeless people don't just need housing – they need services to get and stay housed. Vote yes on Measure H."

The L.A. Times has endorsed Measure H. If passed, Measure H would "begin to change the landscape - literally - of our cities, where it has become the norm to find homeless people in tents under overpasses, holed up in campers on streets, pushing shopping carts full of belongings down a sidewalk, or just sitting listlessly in a park."

Please consider joining the more than 300 organizations, cities, elected officials and individuals who have already endorsed Measure H and pledge to vote here.

Measure H would provide $355 million annually for 10 years to fund a coordinated countywide approach to providing homeless services ranging from mental health counseling and job training to treatment for addiction, expanded outreach, rapid re-housing, help with rent over the short-term, more affordable housing, and improved case management. Services would be offered beginning in July of this year.

Pledge to vote YES on Measure H today, and turn in your mail-in ballot or go to the polls on March 7.
